

Can you afford to survive a serious illness?

Life changes. Be prepared. Be protected.

You may think 'I have no family history of cancer or heart disease' or 'I'm in good shape now and lead a relatively healthy lifestyle'. You may think 'I know people can be struck down with a serious illness but it won't happen to me'.

However, the sad fact is that serious illness can strike anyone, at any time.

Serious illness does not discriminate on the basis of your age, your income level, your gender, the passport you carry, the colour of your skin or how good or bad a person you are. It can creep up on you over time, or it can be suddenly forced upon you in the form of an accident.

Have you considered the implications for you and your family if you were unfortunate enough to be diagnosed with a serious illness, or if you were involved in an accident which left you disabled and unable to work?

At Friends Provident International we are there for our customers at their most vulnerable and important moments.

A significant feature of our International Protector Middle East + plan is cover against serious illness. The plan covers a range of critical illnesses which means that, should the worst happen, you will be able to support yourself and your family through the difficult times ahead.

Still think it won't happen to you?
Read on for some startling statistics.

The UAE perspective...

AROUND 4,500¹
cases of cancer are diagnosed
every year in the UAE

That means
on average

- Non-communicable diseases (NCD) i.e. cancer, cardiovascular, respiratory diseases and diabetes account for 67% of deaths in the UAE.²
- In the UAE, the probability of dying between the ages of 30 and 70 from one of the four main NCDs is 19%.³

This chart shows a detailed breakdown of the most common types of cancer that people suffer in the UAE.⁴

The average age of people suffering a

in the UAE is 45⁵
compared with 65 globally

...and the global situation

Cancer represents

65%⁶
of all
critical illness claims

The four most common cancers occurring worldwide are:

- lung
- female breast
- bowel
- prostate cancer

These four cancers account for around 40% of all cancers diagnosed worldwide.

WORLDWIDE

it is estimated that there will be

23.6⁶

million

new cases of cancer each year by 2030

2.5m⁷

Indians are currently living with cancer

- It is feared that soon Indians will suffer the highest incidence of heart disease in the world, with approximately two million heart attacks reported last year.⁸
- Cardiovascular disease is the most common health complaint amongst male Indian expats living in the UAE.⁸

19,800¹⁰

Australians died

from coronary artery disease in 2013

Accounting for

13%¹⁰
of all deaths

- Cancer was the biggest overall killer in Australia in 2013 with 44,100 deaths, followed by cardiovascular disease (43,600).¹⁰
- In 2014–15 more than 11 million Australians had at least one of eight chronic conditions.¹⁰

That's about 1 in 3 deaths¹¹

Strokes account for 1 in 20 deaths in the US¹¹

Cancer is a leading cause of death worldwide, accounting for 8.8 million deaths in 2015. The most common causes of cancer death are:¹²

 Lung
1.6 million

 Liver
788,000

 Colorectal
774,000

 Stomach
754,000

 Breast
571,000

However, there is some good news...

As a result of medical advances more and more people worldwide are surviving serious illnesses.

For example, mortality rates resulting from cardiac incidences in UAE hospitals have reduced from 30% to just 3% over the last 30 years. Many critical illnesses can be prevented by addressing lifestyle choices and behavioural risk factors. Most of these life-threatening health conditions are now curable, especially if detected early on.

That's all well and good of course, but you need to consider the implications if you had to give up work – either permanently or temporarily following a serious illness.

Think about the cost of making lifestyle changes to help with your recovery from a serious illness or accident. The adaptations you may need to make to your home to help you cope with a disability. The cost of child care and how you would be able to meet the cost of your children's education if you are no longer able to work and don't have an income.

Could you and your family survive financially if you suffered a serious illness and were unable to work?
